Without a proper resolution, banks may refuse to process the closure, citing lack of authorisation, which could lead to operational delays or legal complications.

Legal Framework Governing Bank Account Closure

Legal Provisions and Regulations

Different jurisdictions have specific laws governing corporate banking operations. For example:

- In India, the Companies Act, 2013, and Reserve Bank of India (RBI) guidelines provide directives on account closures.

During the meeting, the directors discuss the rationale behind closing the account, such as:

- Business restructuring
- Closure of a branch or subsidiary
- Dissolution of the company
- Poor account performance
- Compliance or regulatory reasons

A resolution is then proposed and put to vote. The resolution must be approved by the required majority, as specified in the company's bylaws.

- Any instructions regarding the handling of remaining balances.

Sample wording:

"Resolved that the company's bank account with [Bank Name], bearing account number [XXXXXX], be closed with immediate effect, and the authorized signatories are empowered to take all necessary steps to effect the closure."

4. Obtain Necessary Approvals and Signatures

Once approved, the resolution should be signed by the chairperson and company secretary or other authorized officers. Multiple copies may be prepared for distribution or submission to the bank.

5. Notify the Bank and Submit Necessary Documents

The company must formally inform the bank of the decision by submitting:

- The certified copy of the board resolution.
- A letter of instruction or application for closure.
- KYC documents or identification of authorized signatories.
- Any additional documentation required by the bank.

6. Reconcile and Settle Outstanding Balances

Legal Challenges

If the resolution is not properly drafted or executed, the bank or regulatory authorities may challenge the closure, citing procedural lapses.
